15th Annual

Administrative Professionals' Celebration

STAND STRONG

AND FOLLOW THE SUN

With Keynote Address by East Carolina University's Women's Head Basketball Coach, Heather Macy

Administrative Professionals are the hub of our workplace, all roads leading to them. Most days may seem to breeze by with ease— and some days may not. What stays consistent are the Administrative Professionals working diligently behind the scenes to keep our picture-perfect theatrical performance that we call our workplace— running as smoothly as possible. When stress is headed their way— they continuously outshine others. They cheerfully hold their heads up high and dominate the task-at-hand. They stand strong, and follow the sun. Join your colleagues over breakfast to hear the motivational passion and spirit of our keynote speaker— Heather Macy.
